Power Plant Closed To Save a Baby's Life

Carlsbad, N. M., March 11.—All enterprises dependent upon electric light or power were closed down here Saturday afternoon while an effort was made to save the life of a newly born baby of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Livingston.

There is but one pulmotor in Carlsbad and that is owned by the Public Utilities company. When the baby was born, it began struggling for breath and the company was telephoned for. President A. J. Murr and manager E. A. Roberts, of the Public Utilities company, were six miles below the city at the company's dam when the pulmotor was asked for. They were telephoned for by the engineer of the plant and Mr. Murr ordered him, as he was the only man in town who could use the pulmotor, to shut down the plant at once and go to the aid of the baby.

For two hours, all electric lights and power were off while an effort was made to save the life of the baby, but without avail.

GERMAN WAR LORDS FEAR REVOLT BUT DARE NOT OFFER TERMS

Tide of Revolt in Germany and Austria-Hungary is Rising Rapidly and Militarists Want to End the War But Fear to Offer Terms That Would Appear to Be Admission of Defeat.

LONDON, Eng., March 11.—Upon the frontier of the central powers, an automatic compromise have not down a barrier to prevent the world from learning the truth regarding the extraordinary conflicts of parties and policies now in progress in Germany and Austria.

Meanwhile the German great general staff is marshaling its legions and those of its allies for a desperate final attempt to obtain a military decision over its enemies, or, failing that, to win a success that will discourage the forces of democracy and lead them to conclude a peace of exhaustion with the barbarian war lords.

The war will be won by the side with the strongest nerves," old Hindenburg said in 1915, and it is upon this now well worn tag that German autocracy is staking its life. The great and perhaps the final campaign in the field will be under way within a few weeks.

But, failing that military decision or strategic break through which no

German Deserts To Tell British Big Attack Is Impending; Allies Smother Germans As They Charge

WITH the British Army in France and Belgium, March 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—Heavy, artillery fire proceeded at various points along the tense British and German battle lines yesterday morning when the British in a violent counter attack buried the Germans from the post they succeeded in capturing in the region of Polderhoek ridge Friday evening.

The British defenses here and south of the Houtholst forest, where the Germans seized six posts Friday morning, have been reestablished completely after severe fighting in which the Germans lost heavily.

Deserters informed British.

Both these attacks were but apologies for what the Germans had planned originally. They had intended to make a pretentious assault on the northern end of Houtholst forest, the British salient just southeast of the wood and gain a number of important positions. The British, however, through a deserter and they buried the Houtholst front under such an avalanche of shells that the enemy was forced to abandon his scheme. The Germans decided, nevertheless, to make a smaller attack Friday morning, which gained them six posts temporarily. The final result was that they were driven out with severe losses and also forced to abandon some of their own forward positions.

Prisoner Divulged Another Attack.

A strong attack had also been planned for Feb. 25 against the important high ground held by the British in the region of Polderhoek and

One Advertisement in Herald Sells New Automobile Without Demonstration or Any Effort

"It seems to me that The Herald may be interested in knowing the results of my advertisement in your automobile column last Saturday. I have always contended that The Herald is 'the paper for reaching the trade territory' around El Paso and the results I have obtained go to prove it. Last Saturday we advertised that we would have a shipment of Franklin cars in within the next few days and that they would be sold at the old price. When I opened up on Monday morning, I found a telegram from a man in Douglas, giving me an outright order for a Franklin to be delivered when the shipment arrived. It did not take the slightest selling effort, beyond The Herald advertisement, to sell the car. The shipment arrived on Thursday; the car was driven to Douglas on Friday. Herald advertisement pays."

AMERICANS MAKE RAIDS ON GERMAN POSITIONS AS FAR AS THE SECOND LINE

WITH the American Army in France, March 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—American troops, cooperating with the French have carried out three raids opposite the American sector in Lorraine. Two of the raids were executed simultaneously Saturday night.

The Americans swept past the German first line and penetrated to the enemy's second line, 600 yards back.

600 Yards in Each Raid.

The two simultaneous raids, one northwest and northeast of (deleted) were made after intense artillery preparation lasting for four hours, in which the German positions were leveled. At midnight two forces, each one of (deleted), with small French force on their flanks moved upon the German objectives behind a creeping barrage, each on a front of 400 yards. When the Americans reached the enemy first line the barrage was lifted so as to hit the German positions at both points.

Find Nobody Home.

The men dropped into the enemy's trenches, and found them to be empty. Continuing the advance, they went forward 600 yards to the second German line. All the time American machine guns were firing on each flank of the two parties to prevent the enemy from undertaking flanking operations. One French flanking party found two wounded Germans and a number of prisoners.

The Americans found none.

The Americans remained for 45 minutes in the German lines, found excellent concrete dugouts, which they blew up, and also brought back large quantities of material and valuable prizes.

German Counter Barrage Silenced.

While they were in the enemy lines, German artillery began a vigorous counter barrage. It was quickly silenced by American heavy and light artillery, which hurled large quantities of shells on the German batteries.

Trench Mortar Battery Joins In.

An American trench mortar battery, the homes of which were in the (deleted), participated in the artillery preparation preceding the raid, helping to level the enemy positions. The artillery, both light and heavy, was manned by soldiers mostly from (deleted).

Soon after these two raids had been carried out the American staged another raid a point further along the line to the right. They went over the top after artillery preparation of 45 minutes in which the enemy's positions were leveled. The Americans found no one in the trenches, and the raiding party completed the artillery's work of destruction. The American infantrymen who took part in this raid were (deleted) and the engineers from (deleted).

The raids were carried out skillfully, and but for the fact that the Germans fled, more prisoners doubtless would have been taken. Shells are believed to have caused many casualties among the enemy. No Americans are unaccounted for.

German Bombers Toward Town.

The American artillery has been firing vigorously certain towns in the rear areas, roads and communications. The German bombers were directed to the town of (deleted) and the town of (deleted).

An American combat patrol early Saturday was discovered by the enemy in front of the German line, but the patrolmen returned safely.

RAISE FISH IN BACK YARD IS LATEST IN FOOD CONSERVATION

St. Louis, Mo., March 11.—If you want to help Uncle Sam win the war raise fish in your back yard. The new food conservation scheme is going to be tried out here with the slogan, "Keep ten fish in your back yard."

S. C. Hinchey, president of the National Food Conservation League, is sponsoring the idea and suggests it be adopted all over the nation. He says that the average family raised 20,000 fish in three 500-gallon pools.

Central Europe using up more mileage than an American presidential candidate consumes. To parody a phrase used by Winston Churchill, the central European autocracy has become "a government on wheels."

But they cannot find the way out of the dilemma. For there is no way out. They are heading for the abyss. They know it. Only one thing can save them from a breakdown among the allies. As their hour of fate approaches, and they are at the point of breaking, it is to be very near—they redouble their efforts to get peace, and get it quickly. Peace is the war office motto. Peace is the war office motto.

What happened was this. The man had been captured by a German patrol and they had held him up above. He was lying down, and his comrades not knowing what he was doing, they brought him back to the trench. He was lying down, and his comrades not knowing what he was doing, they brought him back to the trench. GERMANS MURDER PRISONERS CAPTURED IN RAIDS OUT IN THE DARKNESS OF THE NIGHT

By CORPORAL R. DERBY HOLMES
Of Boston, Formerly of 22d London Battalion of the Queen's Royal West Surrey Regiment, H. M. Imperial Army.

It is most unwholesome for a British (or an American) patrol to be captured. I recall a case in point which I witnessed and which is far enough in the past so that it can be told. It occurred, not at Vimy Ridge, but further down the line near the Somme.

I was out one night with another man prowling in the dark when I encountered a Canadian sergeant who was alone. There was a Canadian batt holding the next trench to us, and another further down. He was from the further one. We lay in the mud and compared notes. Once when a light floated down near us I saw his face and he was a man I knew, though not by name.

After a while we separated and he went back as he was considerably off his patrol. An hour or so later the light came back and I saw that it was evident that dawn was near. I was a couple of hundred yards down the line. The Canadian sergeant was made for the trenches opposite where we were. As we climbed into a sap we were met by a Canadian corporal. He invited me to a tin of "char," and I sent my man up the line to our own trench.

We sat on the fire step drinking and I told the corporal about meeting the sergeant out in front. While we were at the "char" a German came and presently a pair of Lewis started to rattle hundreds of rounds or so away down the line. A sudden commotion and a kind of low growling sound. That is the best way I can describe it. We stood up and there below we saw men going over the top.

"What the dickens can this be?" stammered the corporal. "There's been no barrage. There's no orders for a charge. What is it? What is it?"

Canadians Take Revenge.

Well, there they were, going over the top. The corporal and I climbed out of the German Offers Life Blood to Whip Kaiser

Green Bay, Wis., March 11.—"Every drop of blood in me is German. I think a good way to whip the Kaiser is to do it with German blood. I am offering it."

This message was sent to the Rockford, Ill., exemption board by Arnold H. Korte, of this city, who registered at Rockford, where he was employed on registration day.

A small American patrol early Friday met an enemy patrol in No Man's Land near Chemin des Dames and fired on the enemy. A sharp skirmish resulted, the accurate firing of the Americans causing one enemy casualty and undoubtedly the death of the American battery positions in a short space of time, but not a single man so far has been sent to a hospital.

The American artillery also fired an enemy ammunition dump. The heavy shells dropped there resulted in a follow-up of flames and great clouds of smoke. The American artillery also shelled heavily the enemy's first and second lines.

United States Snipers Busy.

American snipers have been especially active, one sharpshooter killing a German who was walking a parapet, while other sharpshooters were successful in hitting other Germans who showed themselves.

Some Americans in a listening post in front of their lines north-west of Toul Friday discovered an enemy patrol firing their own wire and promptly opened fire. The Germans retreated, leaving two of their number hanging on the barbs.

Five Germans, two infantrymen and three Red Cross workers started for their comrades entangled in the wire. The Americans saw the Red Cross braves and did not fire on the party, which removed the bodies.

And bitter conflicts between the German political and military leaders. Disagreements, it was learned, between Tirpitz and Bethmann-Hollweg, have been explained by the German ambassador in these more recent times, the fact that Tirpitz and Bethmann-Hollweg are on opposite sides of the same line. Tirpitz is the one who is in the uneasy role of umpire. Opinion has been misled by these disagreements.

Are Agreed as to Aims.

There is no difference between the political and military leaders of the autocracy regarding aims. The squabble concerns the methods to be employed in attaining the aims upon which all are agreed. Tirpitz and Ludendorff are as one upon the formula set down above, that their power depends upon the maintenance of the prestige of the military state. They naturally agree, therefore, in the general staff is inclined to increase its efforts to make more great attacks, to redouble the military pressure, to redouble the military pressure.

COURT UPHOLDS CLAIM TO MEX. PROPERTY

Sustains Americans' Title to Confiscated Hides in An El Paso Case.

MANY SIMILAR CASES PENDING

Hide Confiscation Is Made A Test Case Proving A General Principle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—Claims of American citizens to property confiscated by the Mexican Constitutional authorities in 1913 and sold to them, were today sustained by the supreme court in a test case.

The proceedings were brought to recover hides which the Mexican authorities seized and transported to El Paso where they were sold to the Central Leather company.

The lower court rejected contentions that this act was an act of confiscation of non-combatant property during a state of war in violation of the Hague treaties and declared valid the authority of the United States government officials to determine the status of the Mexican forces. The supreme court's opinion was regarded as being important, owing to the large number of similar cases pending.

Must Find Recourse in Mexico.

In deciding the case Justice Brandeis declared the title to such property cannot be ascertained successfully in a court in this country but that recourse must be found either through diplomatic channels or in the Mexican courts.

Metals Co. Case Brought Up.

Answering certain questions certified in connection with a similar case, involving the seizure in Mexico by the Mexican government of 1913 of the metals of the Metals Co. in the United States, the supreme court said the federal district court in El Paso had authority to determine the validity of the title to the bullion and that the American Metals company, original claimants before it was seized, lost title through action of the defunct authorities.

The case grew out of injunction proceedings by the metal company to prevent removal of the bullion from an El Paso warehouse where it was stored after being sold in the United States by the Mexican authorities. The company claimed title under a bill of sale from a Mexican company dated before the confiscation.

CITY OF DENVER IS FIRST DEALER TO CUT COAL PRICE

Denver, Colo., March 11.—The city of Denver's coal department was the first dealer in the nation to cut the price of coal today, the date on which the new government order reducing the price of coal at the mines took effect. The city has been selling selected lignite coal for $4.85 a ton during the winter. Today the price was cut to $4.45 a ton.

Other Denver dealers will sell the coal they have on hand at the old price, but it is said a reduction will be made on all coal which left the mines today.

AUSTRIANS ARE SUNK IN CROSSING THE PIAVE

Rome, Italy, March 11.—Austrian troops which apparently were making their way across the Piave river were prevented from doing so yesterday by the Italian batteries which rained shells on the boats in the river opposite Fiume. The war office announced today.

CHINA IS TO SEND 40,000 MEN TO AID JAPAN IN SIBERIA

Mobilization Bill Introduced in the Japanese Diet at Tokyo

Osaka, Japan, March 11.—War measures were taken today both here and in Peking. A bill providing for mobilization and for conscription of labor was introduced in the Japanese diet.

Word was received from Peking that the Chinese cabinet had voted $5,000,000 to defray the expenses of an expeditionary force of 40,000 soldiers in Siberia.

Demand Return of Japanese.

Osaka, Japan, March 11.—According to a dispatch to the Mainichi of this city from Washington, the United States is demanding a guarantee for the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia immediately the Russian crisis is over.

No Such Demand Made.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—It was authoritatively stated here today by officials in close touch with the situation, that no such demand as referred to in the foregoing dispatch has been made upon Japan by the United States and that such a demand would be considered "impugning Japan's good faith which the United States already has recognized." It also was stated that if Japanese troops go to Siberia the question of their withdrawal is expected to go before the peace conference.

China to Send Two Divisions.

Peking, China, March 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—China, in response to an inquiry from Tokyo, has signified her intention to cooperate with Japan in the protection of allied interests in the far east. The Chinese bureau has been requested to arrange for the sending of two divisions to northern Manchuria. Japan will bear the expenses pending the completion of a proposed American loan to China.

Unique Book of Recipes For Readers of The Herald

THE Washington Information Bureau of the El Paso Herald is distributing large numbers of copies of its latest offering—a unique and authoritative free booklet on the serving of canned food.

Canned foods are an increasingly important factor in the bill of fare in every American home. Most canned food is ready cooked—but that does not mean that it is ready to serve.

How to make nourishing and appetizing dishes quickly and easily from canned food—that is the modern civilian problem. The Herald offers the first authoritative work on this subject.

SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL.

In a special research laboratory in Washington a corps of scientists have been patiently experimenting and investigating. They knew whatever was to be known about their problem when they began, and they have found out a great deal since. They have put down in simple and straightforward language the best ways to prepare canned food for the table.

WHAT THE BOOK TELLS.

They have compiled over 150 recipes. All the ingredients are available practically wherever food is sold. With a few words of instruction telling the most important things to know in each case, they give full directions for preparing appetizers, soups, entrees, vegetables, salads and desserts from canned goods, along with the necessary sauces, pastes and dressings that turn them from "just food" into delicacies.

In accordance with the policy of service inaugurated by The El Paso Herald, this booklet is absolutely free. It will be sent to you for a three-cent stamp for return postage. Tear out the attached coupon and fill in your name and address plainly.

NAPLES IS SCENE OF HORROR; SEVEN INVALIDS ARE VICTIMS

Occupants of Hospital Are Among Casualties Inflicted by Teutonic Aviators in 600 Mile Raiding Expedition in Italy; Twenty Bombs Are Dropped in a Residential Quarter of the City.

ROME, Italy, March 11.—Naples was attacked by enemy aviators early this morning. Twenty bombs were dropped in a residential quarter. The victims included seven occupants of a hospital of the Little Sisters, near Arcorelli. Italian aircraft on raiding operations dropped seven tons of bombs upon areas occupied by the enemy.

Naples is the largest city of Italy, with a population of 800,000. Home and the cities of northern Italy are within easier striking distance from the north.

From the Austrian base at Durazzo, Albania, a raid on Naples would involve a trip of about 500 miles.
